CIVIL SUIT AGAINST CITY OPENS IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Action Brought by Owners of Land Seized at Hall and Aiken Streets for the Purpose of Eliminating a Dangerous Corner—Jury Views Premises

A civil suit growing out of the city's seizure by right of eminent domain of land and property at Hall and Aiken streets for corner widening purposes was begun in superior court here today before Judge Greenhalge and a jury. Action is brought against the city by the owners of the property involved, Annie Marshall and Beattie Tepper of Lawrence, who ask that property damages incurred in the seizure process be assessed by the jury. They are represented by Gardner Pearson, Solicitor P. J. Reynolds is handling the case for the city. The case is expected to take up the major portion of two days. The jury

TEAR GAS BOMBS TO BE USED IN TONG WAR SEIZED BY N. Y. POLICE

Ancient Feud of the Tongs Might Have Been Disastrously Renewed Today With Most Modern of War Materials Except for Lucky Tip

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The ancient feud of the tongs might have been disastrously renewed today with the most modern of war materials—gas bombs—except for a lucky tip last night, the police say. Two tear gas grenades were seized by detectives last night in a raid on an uptown Chinese restaurant and Long Wong Chue, a waiter, was arrested on a charge of possessing them. The police said that Chue is a member of the Hip Sing Tong, which

THE CLOSING OF THE HUNTING SEASON

The number of hunters affected by the closing of the hunting season by proclamation of Governor Cox yesterday, owing to the danger of forest fires, is estimated at over 900 by City Clerk Stephen Flynn, at whose office the licenses are issued.

ANNUAL POLICE HALLOWEEN WARNING

The annual police Halloween warning was issued today by Acting Superintendent of Police Hugh Downey, who stated that miscreants will be prosecuted if caught in the act of destroying property on that day. Halloween comes next Friday, and to insure protection extra police details will be pressed into service. The police will not object to innocent amusement, says the acting chief, but such malicious practices of breaking down window blinds and gates will not be tolerated.

Permit to K. K. K. to Stage Parade Brings Protest From Rival Organization, Latter to Ignore Order—Mayor Calls for Outside Assistance

NILES, O., Oct. 28.—Explosion of a bomb early today wrecked the front of the home of Mayor H. L. Kistler. Although the mayor and his family were sleeping upstairs, they escaped injury. A controversy regarding the right of the Ku Klux Klan to stage a parade here Saturday afternoon has been raging for several days. Officials of the Knights of the Flaming Circle also applied for permission to parade at the same time, but their request was denied by the mayor, who

AMOSKEAG MILLS CLOSE TILL AFTER ELECTION

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 28.—The Amoskeag mills will close down Friday night for a short vacation over the election day holidays, resuming operations the following Wednesday. The mills under normal conditions employ about 12,000 operatives, but only a fraction of that number are now employed part time. The operatives have been in conference with the mill agent relative to wages, the workers deciding to stand by their original proposal of a ten per cent reduction, but refusing to accept 15 or 20 per cent reduction, and the matter stands there for the present. The shutdown, according to the mills, has nothing to do with the recent conferences.

ADMINISTRATORS OF DE COURCY ESTATE

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—In view of a possible contest of the will of the late Justice Charles A. DeCourcy of the supreme judicial court, Judge Dolan in probate court today appointed his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth M. DeCourcy, and Henry V. Cunningham, special administrators of the estate, said to be valued at $460,000, all personal property.

DISMANTLED LINER IS SET AFIRE

SALEM, Oct. 28.—The city of Rockland, dismantled liner, formerly of the Eastern Steamship company, was set afire today. The craft, recently bought by the W. E. Belts company shipyard of Salem, is being burned so as to make easy the work of salvaging the old metal of the ship. The craft was beached a few days ago between Great and Little Misery islands, about four miles off the Salem coast. The torch was applied at about noon and in a short time the old passenger ship was a mass of flames.

G. O. P. MAN WOULD VOTE FOR DAVIS IN DEADLOCK

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 28.—Congressman Francis F. Patterson, addressing ward meetings here last night, said he would prefer Davis to La Follette in the event the republicans did not get sufficient votes in the electoral college and Coolidge falls of election in the house. The congressman is the republican candidate for re-election. The present New Jersey delegation in the house stands six to six, and unless the tie is broken the state would have no choice in the election of a president if the contest goes to congress.

SEC. HUGHES DEFENDS FOREIGN POLICY

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, was en route to the east today to speak in Buffalo, after completing his campaign tour of the middle west here last night. Economics and the republican foreign policy were the themes of his address here with proposals of the La Follette-Wheeler independent platform and attack of the third party success also considered.

FUNERAL OF PERCY D. HAUGHTON TOMORROW

BROOKLINE, Mass., Oct. 28.—The body of Percy D. Haughton, football coach successfully at Cornell, Harvard and Columbia, who brought new ideas to the game and new spirit to the teams he tutored, was brought back today from New York, where he died suddenly Monday evening. Accompanied by J. Wells Farley, a fellow with "P. D." in the formulation of graduate policies and an associated Princeton police and a long-time friend, the body was taken to undertakers rooms in this town, from which it will be taken to Boston tomorrow for the funeral services at St. Paul's cathedral.

FACTORY FIRE IN EAST WEYMOUTH EAST WEYMOUTH, Oct. 28.—A blaze in a rubbish box in the shipping room of the George E. Keith company factory here at 4:30 this morning, called the entire fire department. Automatic sprinklers quenched the blaze. The only loss was from water and damage was slight.

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA LEADER

"Less than a month's acquaintance with Serge Koussevitzky shows his independence, daring, and contempt for tradition and custom," said the Boston Post last Monday morning, in commenting on the new Boston Symphony orchestra conductor's action the preceding Saturday in allowing the orchestra to play an encore, thus defying an age-old rule.

"He breaks precedent with suave assurance that wins his younger patrons' admiration," continued the Post. "In the music he puts pauses where none are written, whips up the tempo in passages other conductors play at metronomic pace, makes phrases stand out that heretofore were but humble parts of the structure; in fact, does about everything differently than his predecessors, at the head of the Boston Symphony orchestra."

This is the type of man Lowell music lovers will have an opportunity to see next Sunday afternoon when he comes to the Memorial Auditorium for the first concert of the world-famous organization this season outside of Greater Boston. Not only is he a leader of the greatest artistry, but he possesses a personality that makes him a man among men, a man whom most people want to see in action.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

H. K. KEITH'S THEATRE

The present week's bill at the H. K. Keith theatre is headed by Isabel Parmond, chic little actress, and low flutings, presenting a sketch which is as natural as one will often see. It is very well done. A. Robbins, the initiator of musical instruments, entertains with his many trick changes, and Jack Fulton & Quinette are a witty couple with much good patter and some dancing. Fridkin, Jr., and Rhoda are specially good dancers of a fast moving type, and Ray W. Shaw and Narine bring forth some topical comments which are entertaining. The bill is opened by Ralph Holbein, a rapid fire artist. The Pathe News holds several good pictures of the recent visit of the Prince of Wales to this city, and many in the great crowd are easily recognizable.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances will be given this afternoon and evening at the Merrimack Square Theatre of "Changing Husbands," a story of modern life with Leticia Joy in the leading role, and "The Tenth Woman," starring in Beverly Bayne and Julia Marlowe in a dramatic whirlwind.

For the second part of the week, beginning Thursday afternoon, the management has arranged one of the most attractive triple-feature programs ever shown on a local screen. First will come "The Enemy Sex," a new James Cruze Paramount production, starring Betty Compson in a story of the modern dapper. It is one of the really big pictures of the year. The second feature will be "Not a Drum Was Heard," starring Charles Jones in a regular "he-man" production.

Third, but not least, will be the first episode of the most thrilling of chapter plays, "In the Net."

ANNOUNCEMENT BY POSTAL TEL. CO.

Manager R. D. Wyman of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company announces that effective Nov. 1st, 1924, through arrangements with the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., telegrams reaching Postal Telegraph offices, by telephone, may be charged to the subscriber on the Telephone company's statement and collected by the Telephone company.

In the past it has been necessary for the Postal company to send out hundreds of small monthly telegraph bills to phone subscribers in addition to their regular telephone bill.

Manager Wyman is confident that this new arrangement of billing through the Telephone company will materially benefit the smaller concerns and individuals who are desirous of keeping clerical help down to a minimum.

This new arrangement with the Telephone company will also please many radio fans who may desire to send messages asking for repeats or congratulatory messages at night to the radio broadcasting stations.

All telegrams and cablegrams sent via Postal Telegraph after Oct. 31, will appear on the regular bill slip of the telephone company.

The Lowell users of the telegraph and cables need only to telephone "Postal Telegraph" and instantaneous connection will be made with a courteous attendant who will record your message.

DON'T MISS THE ALEPPO TEMPLE DRUM CORPS

It is seldom that such an organization as the Aleppo Temple Drum Corps, so-called Shriner band of Boston, is heard in public concert and dance outside of the largest cities. This band is the largest in the world, and is comprised of 215 musicians. At Kansas City, Mo., they were one of the big features of the annual convention this year. If the weather is right, there will be a short parade before the concert and dance in the Memorial Auditorium on Thursday, November 6th.

Don't fail to see the famous drum major, who weighs nearly 400 pounds, and is 6 feet, 8 inches tall. Every body in the band knows him by "Burr," but his real name is Frank Buswell. Twenty-eight different instruments are used by this famous organization, including many of special construction, which are employed by no other band in existence.

Tickets are now on sale by members of the Temple club or at Steinert's, 120 Merrimack street.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE

Middlesex county extension service members will hold a millinery demonstration in the town hall, Tyngsboro, on Saturday next, the program starting promptly at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. J. K. Draper will speak informally on the subject of the selection and construction of hats. She will have samples of hats, frames, materials and trimmings, and will explain in detail the various steps in manufacturing headgear for females.

The workers planning to hold the coming demonstration earnestly hope that it will be helpful to those women who wish to buy hats intelligently when they visit emporiums of trade. It is also a "school" for the instruction of women in making their hats at home.

MAKES FAT PEOPLE SLIM!

Many of your friends think that you are too fat. Why realize it. But why, in all common sense, don't you get rid of that extra 10, 20, 30 or more pounds? Feel comfortable in your own skin again. I am a physician licensed by the State of New York. I have for years treated men and women overburdened with excess weight. Many have reduced as much as 50 pounds a day. I prescribe my patients such treatment as will, in my opinion, produce not only the loss of weight without harm, but an improvement in health. Don't take my word for it. Let me send you free my trial treatment and convince yourself. Personal attention is given to each case and you are treated exactly as if you were in my office.

FREE TRIAL AND INTERESTING BOOKLET

I have successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction.

Without Change of Diet or Unnecessary Exercise

Below are a few extracts of letters from grateful patients which bear out my statements:

Lost 76 Pounds. Miss O. Whitlow writes: "I have lost 76 pounds as a result of your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now take long walks without becoming tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

Lost 70 Pounds. Mr. S. Santos writes: "I have lost 70 pounds as a result of taking your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now take long walks without becoming tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

Lost 48 Pounds. Mrs. E. Horner says: "Well, I'm glad to inform you that I have lost 48 pounds in 6 weeks."

Make up your mind this very day to get rid of that fat. Write me for my trial treatment now; then you'll soon realize how happy you'll feel, how much better your health will be for having joined the thousands of my grateful patients who now belong to the ranks of Slim People. Mr. Chas. Patterson Tells How Cuticura Healed Eczema

"My body was affected with eczema that broke out in a rash and then formed blisters. Later it broke out on my feet and limbs and I could hardly walk or get my shoes on. It itched and burned so badly that I could not get any sleep at night. The trouble lasted about three months.

"I tried different remedies but the trouble kept getting worse. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped me. I purchased more and after using three cases of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Chas. Patterson, R. F. D. 5, Hornell, N. Y., March 10, 1924.

PLAN TO ERECT NEW GREEK CHURCH

Members of the Lowell Greek Orthodox church are planning to erect a new edifice in Common street at a cost approximating $75,000. The membership of the church today is about 600 men and women, who worship apart from the Greek Independent Orthodox church organization formed several months ago in Lowell, and which took over the edifice of the Trinity church at Jefferson and Suffolk streets.

The parcel of land at the corner of Common street and Common avenue, consisting of 10,000 square feet of real estate, has been purchased by the Orthodox church building committee. Emanuel J. Katsos, chairman. Plans are now being drawn up for the new edifice.

Y. W. HEBREW ASSOCIATION

Last Wednesday evening, Oct. 22, the second annual Halloween costume and dancing party was held at the Highland clubhouse, by the Lowell Young Women's Hebrew Association. The affair was very successful, both financially and socially, and presented quite a brilliant aspect with the Halloween decorations and the pretty and picturesque costumes of the dancers. During the evening, a grand march was held at which favors were distributed, and the winners of the two prize costumes were chosen. This prize was awarded to Miss Lena Saperstein and the second prize was given to Miss Lily Fox. After a short intermission, at which refreshments were served, novelty dances were given by three well known child dancers. There were many out-of-town guests from Lawrence, Haverhill, Manchester, Salem and Beverly. Those responsible for the success of this affair were Misses Rose Fox, Mary Cohen, Gertrude Skiel and Lillian Cohen.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The Twentieth Century club decided at their last meeting which was held Oct. 26 to hold their annual dancing party at the Green Lantern, Thursday, Nov. 13. Officers in charge of the affair are the following: General Manager Edward Farrell, Secretary, Peter Conditine, Treasurer Winnie Welch.

Keeping Millions Free From Colds and LaGrippe

W. H. HILL'S LIFE WORK

Colds cause more illness than any other human ailment. Realizing this 50 years ago, W. H. Hill determined to develop a quick-acting scientifically correct cold and la grippe remedy.

Years of research brought success. Mr. Hill discovered a most remarkable formula. He backed it with energy, faith, integrity and a name that meant "satisfaction or money back."

Today more than 4,000,000 families—one-fifth of America's population—use and recommend Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine.

The formula has never been changed in a quarter century. What Hill's has done for millions, it can do for you. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait. All druggists, 30 cents.

JIMMY DODGE IS STILL HANDLING FANCY STOCK

Manager Jimmy Dodge, of the famous Emmadine Farm, Hopewell Junction, N. Y., breeder of the best there is in foremost Guernsey cattle, writes to Lowell friends of old who knew him when he managed C. I. Hood's great Tewksbury cattle barns and ranges, that Emmadine thoroughbreds continue to pull down all the blue ribbons in sight at dairy shows and county fairs in several states.

The champion Guernseys loomed under the gentle control and handling of Manager Dodge, were shown this year at the New York state fair, the Eastern States exposition, National Dairy show and fair, and also the Dutchess (N. Y.) county fair. Their winnings total 138 prizes, including the premier exhibitor's award at each fair; eight grand champions (all three years); 12 champions; 40 first prizes; 14 second prizes, and 22 third prizes.

This gives the Emmadine farm the honor of being the premier show herd of America for the year 1924. Secretary E. H. Webster sends the glad tidings to follow cattle fanciers residing in Lowell, Tewksbury, etc. The hall member Jimmy Dodge and what he did when the Hood farm was also capturing all the blue ribbons in sight in the good old days.

CALEB CLUB HOLDS HALLOWEEN PARTY

The ballroom of the Highland club was the scene of a merry Halloween party last evening when the Caleb club of the First Universalist church held its annual party and dance. The hall was prettily arranged with streamers of orange and black. Favors were distributed during the evening and refreshments served. Dancing was enjoyed to a late hour. The committee in charge consisted of Michael Brennan, Lester Taglia, James Scott, Herbert Needham and William Brown.

Are You Fat? Just Try This

Thousands of overfat people have become slender by following the advice of doctors who recommend Marmola Prescription Tablets. These little fat reducers are made from the same formula as the famous Marmola Prescription. If too fat, don't wait—go to your druggist now and for one dollar (the same price the world over) procure a box of these tablets. If you prefer you may secure them direct by sending price to the Marmola Co., General Motors Bldg., Detroit, Mich. They reduce steadily and easily. No need for tiresome exercise or starvation diet and no unpleasant effects.—Adv.

BETTER WIVES AND MOTHERS

The emancipation of women as evidenced by the evolution in dress from steel stays that made a twenty inch waist and the long street sweeping skirts to the sports clothes of the present day has certainly had its effect upon the health of women. With proper attention to diet and exercise a race of better wives and mothers is developed as evidenced by irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness and irritability. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to overcome them. Thousands of women testify to its success.—Adv.

LATE RISING IS VERY BAD HABIT

The habit of sleeping in the morning until the last possible minute, says the Massachusetts department of public health, and then dashing off to work, is very harmful from the standpoint of health. The average person does not eat enough breakfast. This causes a nervous condition which prevents the normal functioning of the bowels. The result is a mid-morning, tired feeling, irritable temper, and sometimes headache and nausea.

The remedy is to go to bed early enough to get eight hours' sleep and yet have time for the necessary morning duties.

Arsenic has been successfully used as a fertilizer in France.

How Skinny Kids Can Grow Robust

Weak, undernourished, underweight boys and girls who are peevish, fretful and sickly need McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.

Cod Liver Oil would do just as well, but what parent would be so cruel as to give them the horrible nasty tasting, ill smelling stuff, when sugar coated cod liver oil tablets made by McCoy's Laboratories of New York are as easy to take as candy and won't upset their delicate stomachs.

Star Chart For November

35° NORTH LATITUDE

★ 1st MAGNITUDE● 2nd○ 3rd+ 4th• 5th

This chart shows the heavens as they appear at 8 p. m., Nov. 1; 9 p. m., Nov. 15, and 7 p. m., Nov. 30. It should be held in an inverted position or over the head with the top toward the north.

The most interesting group of stars visible during the evening hours this month are Cassiopeia in the north with its characteristic W-shaped group of stars, the Northern Cross in Cygnus, high in the west, directly in the path of the Milky Way, the Great Square in Pegasus, nearly due south of the zenith with Andromeda adjacent on the east, and, in the eastern sky, the constellations of Taurus and Auriga.

Auriga contains two interesting and far-famed groups of stars, the cluster of the Hyades and the V-shaped group of the Pleiades which contains the fiery red first magnitude star Aldebaran. Close to the brilliant yellow star, Castor, in Auriga is a small group of three stars known as Haedi, or The Kids.

The Great Spiral Nebula in Andromeda is faintly visible to the naked eye and will be found in the position indicated on the chart.

The planet Mars is now visible in the southwest and is the only one of the brighter planets above the horizon at the time for which the chart is given. Many interesting objects in addition to those mentioned above can be identified with the aid of the chart.

MANY MEN AND WOMEN ARE OUT OF WORK

The unemployment situation locally shows very little improvement, according to Cornelius Cronin, city employment director, despite the stories in circulation throughout the district to the contrary.

Over 500 men and women have visited his office in the last week, he said, and of this number only very few have been placed and these mainly in state institutions.

The persons seeking work at the city employment office are both skilled and unskilled and many would do most anything in their power to secure, not a day's work necessarily, but an hour or two of gainful employment doing any kind of an odd job that would result in getting a little money in their pockets.

Men with families visit the office daily seeking any kind of work, and, according to Mr. Cronin, the expression on their faces when told that there is no work, is pitiful.

Many who visit the office tell the director that their children cannot attend school because they have neither shoes nor stockings to wear, and many of the adults who come to his office looking for work are dressed practically in rags.

While unable to find employment for the large majority of these applicants, Mr. Cronin believes that with the co-operation of the general public he will be able to alleviate a little of their suffering by providing them with clothes, shoes and stockings especially.

Through this paper he wishes to ask everyone and anyone in this city who is working and who has stored away any old clothes, to notify him at his office in city hall, by telephone or by mail, and he will see that this material is given to those who really need it.

He also asks that any housewife who needs someone to wash paint, or do any odd job around the house or yard, to get in touch with him as there are many who can't work daily who will be more than willing to do this sort of work at a reasonable rate.

SWITCH ON MORE WHITE WAY LIGHTS

In connection with the installation of type white way lights on the main roadways of the city, the Electric Light corporation is at present concentrating its efforts on Appleton and Chelmsford streets and hopes, if material already shipped by the manufacturer is received in time, to switch on the new lights in this district Saturday evening.

The new system includes the whole of Appleton street and Chelmsford street, as far as Stevens street. As soon as this is completed, the Electric Light company crews will transfer their efforts to Westford street, and from there will go to Church street.

POLICEMAN IS ASKED TO RESIGN

But Donald Adams of Chelmsford Centre Still Holds the Fort

Selectmen Have Requested His Resignation But He Refuses to Quit

Letting of Town Hall to Ku Klux Klan Not an Issue, Selectmen Say

Chelmsford citizens today are discussing from many new angles certain startling features connected with the determined action taken last Friday night at a special meeting of the board of selectmen, when it was unanimously voted to request Officer Donald Adams of Chelmsford Centre, to resign from the police force without delay.

The action of the selectmen, Chairman William E. Belleville, George W. Day and George Rigby, is deeply resented by Officer Adams. In an interview granted to a Lowell Sun representative at his home in Chelmsford Centre last evening, the recipient of the selectmen's blunt request declared that he had no intention of resigning from the police force.

"This action on the part of the board of selectmen is a surprise to me. I have performed my duties as an appointed police officer to the best of my abilities. No one can say that I have not worked hard in the performance of my duties. I have made liquor raids where complaints from citizens called for prompt action. I know this has caused some people in this town to criticize me. The West Chelmsford moonshine raid that I conducted without the aid of the selectmen, and made a clean-up of premises long operated for the illegal manufacturing and distribution of bad liquor, is the main reason for my being asked to resign from the force and turn in my badge."

Officer Adams said he found lack of close co-operation among members of the department. He felt that North Chelmsford district officers were not ready to assist him in his activities against certain resorts where it was reported that intoxicating liquors of home manufacture were being dispensed regularly. The flood of complaints that came recently from alleged moonshine plant in the West Chelmsford territory, in the vicinity of the schoolhouse, made it necessary for some action to be taken forthwith, Officer Adams said. He believed he could not get the proper support he wanted in preparing for the raid, he said, so organized his own force of riders, which included state officers, with the results well known.

Since that time, the Chelmsford policeman says he has been expecting to hear something from the board of selectmen. He has been ignored most of the time by the officials, he says, and the notice formally asking him to resign from the police force did not surprise him.

Officer Adams is very emphatic when he states that he will not resign from the department at this time. He believes that the only method the selectmen should adopt, if they insist upon his removal, is to hold a formal hearing and allow him to face those who seek his retirement.

"No accusations for misconduct in office or anything of that sort have been made against me by the selectmen," said Officer Adams. "I have simply been asked to resign. The letter, signed by all three members of the board, simply stated that my work in the police department was unsatisfactory. Now, I am not going to resign. I have performed my duties and have actually done more work than some other officers. And they can't fire me without a hearing, which I am going to demand."

Ku Klux Klan Meeting
Reports current in the different Chelmsford villages, to the effect that the selectmen were indignant because Officer Adams, who has been janitor of the Centre town hall for the past five months, had leased the hall a week ago Tuesday night to Ku Klux Klan organizers for a meeting, were denied today by town officials, including Chairman Belleville of the board of selectmen. Adams, in the role of janitor, let the hall on his own responsibility, and admits it, although the selectmen claim they should have been asked about it first. The janitor has been accused of being a sympathizer with the leaders of the Ku Klux Klan organizers, but stoutly denied the assertion.

held in other place. I had a right to let the hall to them as janitor."

Board of Selectmen

Chairman Belleville of the board of selectmen this morning told a Sun reporter that the selectmen had been placed in an unfortunate position by some of the activities of Officer Adams during the past summer. He declared that Adams was not getting along with other members of the squad, and there had been frequently acute controversial matters with North Chelmsford officers that had not helped in maintaining the town police department morale.

Co-operation was deplorably lacking at times during necessary police investigations and official action in line of general police duties, coping with law-breakers.

"The leasing of Chelmsford town hall to the Ku Klux Klan organizers had nothing to do with the selectmen's decision to disperse with the services of Officer Adams," declared Chairman Belleville, this morning. "He had a perfect right to let the hall to an orderly assembly in the usual way, and though the selectmen have been accused of 'putting back' at Adams for his letting the town hall to the Klan members, that was not thought of when the board took its action last Friday night to disperse with the officer's services."

"We have most certainly received complaints about Adams' police activities and they came from citizens in different parts of the town. North Chelmsford officers have filed complaints charging that they could not work smoothly with the Centre officer. The four Chelmsford policemen listed as follows: Policemen Ed and Vinet, North Chelmsford (elected annually); Policemen James Geekin, North Chelmsford; Policemen George Small, East Chelmsford; Policemen Donald Adams, Chelmsford Centre."

West Chelmsford Raid

The "famous West Chelmsford liquor raid," as the townspeople call it, occurred late in September, and furnished food for town gossip for many days. Chairman Belleville declares that the raid was instigated and conducted by Officer Adams without the town executive authorities knowing what was to be done, although preparations were being made to clean up the place complained of. Charges and counter-charges flew thick and fast, both before and after the big raid, and the controversy between the selectmen and the Chelmsford officer, who declared the descent upon the West Chelmsford moonshine resort, is never ending.

Curious happenings in the vicinity of the West Chelmsford schoolhouse, located not far from the moonshiners' haven, have been occurring recently, and the Chelmsford residents of that town school district and to officials of the town. Several suspicious fires have occurred in the toilets and halls of the school during the past few weeks, each one apparently set by unknown parties.

Chief Belleville is today investigating a strange incident that occurred at the school building, reported a few days ago to him. A bullet of 45-calibre construction was picked up on the floor of the schoolroom, and the empty shell was found outside the building. The shot had been fired through the window, and a piece of cloth stuffed into it to keep out the wind.

The Chelmsford selectmen-police chief declares that that shot was intended for some person who might be in the school building. He made no charges against anyone, but said that the recent incendiary fires that had kept the town officials and firemen on the jump, needed to be investigated thoroughly, and he went to the schoolhouse on several different nights, remaining there for about six hours at a stretch, hoping to solve the mystery of the fires and the rifle bullet.

Adams on the Job

Today, Chelmsford citizens are keeping close tabs on the latest controversy between the selectmen and Officer Adams. The latter was on the job this morning as usual, both in his role as village policeman, badge and everything, and also as regular janitor of ye old town hall. He isn't worrying about either job, he told the Sun reporter. He won't resign from the police force until he is fired, and that goes.

In the meantime, the selectmen are planning to hold another meeting next Saturday evening. This is not a special session, but a "regular." The case of Officer Adams will be taken up once more.

"I cannot say what will be done at the next meeting of the board," said Chairman Belleville this morning. "I will say, however, that we simply requested Officer Adams to send in his resignation. We didn't have to do that. We could have discharged him without a hearing if we so desired. We did not care to do that, and gave him an opportunity to state his case in his resignation. That he has refused to do, I hear that he will demand a hearing in the matter. He is not entitled to a hearing if the selectmen are not inclined to give him one. If he will not resign upon request, he can be promptly discharged by vote of the selectmen, and that will probably be the ultimate action taken in this case."

A CLASS IN AN AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL IN HAWAII

But Its Pupils Read and Write and Speak in Japanese

By N.E.A. Service
HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The Japanese language is being taught in the American public high school here.

Inauguration of the course has brought a storm of protest. But educational officials are deaf to it.

Japanese children today, are overrunning the island's schools, according to the latest census. Some classes are composed principally of Japanese boys and girls.

Half of Hawaii's population is Japanese. Only ten per cent of the total island population is eligible to vote. Taxation, prohibition and agricultural relief may be the chief issues in other parts of the United States, but out here in the middle of the Pacific, there is only one big question now—the Japanese.

"They say it will discourage Japanese the language in the schools. Republicans defend the teaching of schools. And it will, they contend, encourage assimilation."

Democrats, however, insist it should not be tolerated. English, they declare, must be the language of the schools.

FOUND WOUNDED PUPPY ON ROAD

While motoring to Lowell through Tewksbury about 10:30 o'clock this morning, Mrs. D. R. Nulty of 15 Audubon road, Boston, noticed an eight-month-old, shaggy puppy lying injured in the roadside. Stopping her car, she lifted the injured animal into her limousine and sought out the office of the Lowell Humane society. Here the animal was examined by Dr. William S. Eaton and was found to be suffering from a multiple fracture of the right shoulder. It was deemed advisable to put an end to the animal's suffering in a humanitarian way.

THEY DON'T SEEM TO LIVE VERY HAPPILY

James Bevin of Howard street, trafficking against his wife, Olga F. Bevin in an assault and battery case, in district court this morning, declared she struck him last night with a shoe, a lamp chimney, a flat iron, a stove-lifter, a cup, and threw hot water on him. The argument started, he said, when he refused to saw wood at her request yesterday morning.

The wife told the court that she did strike her husband a few times because he refused to get up mornings to go to work. She also referred to an attack he made upon her three weeks ago, when neighbors, she said, saved her from further abuse by breaking down two doors to go to her assistance.

After hearing both sides of the case, Judge Enright continued the matter for two weeks without finding.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

MAN TRAVELS 25 YEARS— SLEEPS ONLY TWO HOURS

"I am a traveling man and for 25 years I had chronic indigestion and gas fermentation. Everything I ate fermented and I often slept only two hours at night. I tried all so-called stomach remedies, but benefit lasted only a short time. Six months ago I took Adierka (intestinal antiseptic) and I feel fine and want to thank the discoverers of this system." (Signed) A. Thorsen.

Intestinal Antiseptic
There is now offered to the public a liquid preparation having the DOUBLE action of an intestinal antiseptic and a complete system cleanser. This preparation, known as Adierka, acts as follows:
It tends to eliminate or destroy harmful germs and colon bacilli in the intestinal canal, thus guarding against appendicitis and other diseases having their start here.
It cleans out BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes foul matter which poisons the system for months. It brings out all gases, thus immediately relieving pressure on the heart. It is astonishing the great amount of poisonous matter Adierka draws from the intestinal canal—matter you never thought was in your system. Try it right after a natural movement and notice how much MORE foul matter it brings out which was poisoning you. In such disorders, such as occasional constipation, sour stomach, gas on the stomach or sick headache, one spoonful Adierka ALWAYS brings relief. A longer treatment, however, is necessary in cases of obstinate constipation and long standing stomach trouble, preferably under direction of your physician.

Report from Physicians
"I have found nothing in my 50 years' practice to excel Adierka." (Signed) Dr. James Weaver.

28 DAYS OF VIRTUAL DROUGHT IN PHILA.

October, to date, the weather bureau said, has been the driest month in any year since the bureau was established in 1872.

SEC. DAVIS GOING TO ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 28.—The American secretary of labor, James J. Davis, will arrive here on Nov. 28 to study the methods employed by Argentina in handling immigrants, according to a communication received by Minister of Agriculture La Brea.

The secretary will be accompanied by Mrs. Davis, the commissioner of labor statistics, and his private secretary.

"I congratulate you on the good effect from Adierka since I prescribed it." (Signed) Dr. L. Langlois.
"I use Adierka in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose." (Signed) Dr. E. M. P. (Name withheld by request).

"Adierka is the best in my entire 37 years' experience." (Signed) Dr. G. Eggers.
"Cannot describe awful IMPURITIES eliminated from my system (by Adierka). Feel better than for 20 years." (Signed) J. E. Pluckett.

Adierka is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines, because of its quick, pleasant and COMPLETE action. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, 4 Merrimack street, and other leading druggists.—Adv.

Great Optimism Manifested at Big Republican Rally in Auditorium

Party Leaders Presage Record-Breaking Popular Vote for Calvin Coolidge

That Massachusetts next Tuesday will give Calvin Coolidge the greatest popular vote ever accorded a man in the history of the commonwealth, that Fuller will beat Currier for governor by 125,000, that Gillett will beat Walsh by 50,000 and that in the Fifth congressional district Rogers will beat O'Sullivan by 26,000 votes were among the optimistic prognostications made last night by republican party leaders at the big G.O.P. rally at the Memorial Auditorium.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the meeting which was attended by 2500 men and women, anxious to hear Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, Lieut. Gov. Alvin T. Fuller, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Elliot F. Wadsworth, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Mrs. Anna Tillinghast, chairman of the women's division of the state republican committee. Rep. Henry A. Gillett, Jr., made an address presiding officer and his opening remarks in which he prophesied overwhelming party successes at the polls next Tuesday were greeted with prolonged applause.

No speaker was given more strict attention than Mrs. Tillinghast and her brilliant, patriotic address was frequently punctuated with hand-clapping. She is a forceful speaker, well equipped with facts and figures designed to show how the nation has prospered under the republican administration and the audience was worked up to a higher pitch of old-time enthusiasm under the spell of her words than at any other time during the evening.

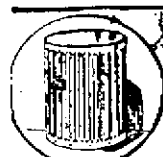

It was rather late when Speaker Gillett arrived and was presented by Mr. Achin as the "new senator from Massachusetts." Mr. Gillett asked for united support behind President Coolidge and dismissed La Follette with the statement, "he preaches a gospel of discontent." In touching upon the New England textile situation, Speaker Gillett said manufacturers fear European competition because they are not protected by across the sea are cheaper. He said there are as many minds as there are men on the tariff question but the republican doctrine on tariff is "every article in the United States that can supply a need should be protected." He praised the immigration laws passed during the present administration.

Lieut. Governor Alvin T. Fuller, who also arrived late after making speeches in other places, emphasized the need of overcoming apathy among voters and pointed out that all conditions in government often can be traced to a laxity on the part of voters who do not bother to exercise their full rights of citizenship. Mr. Fuller spoke in high terms of the administration of Gov. Channing Cox and pointed to the great reduction of $14,000,000 in the state debt during the past two years.

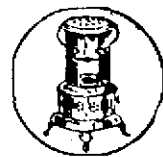

Congressman Rogers hardly mentioned his own campaign, but took 20 minutes to urge support of Coolidge and Gillett. He, too, spoke on the tariff and said although democrats claim the present tariff is the highest in the history of the country, in reality it is the second lowest in history, being only one and a fraction percent higher than the Underwood tariff of the Wilson administration, which he said, the speaker said, "that it did not contain one line of protection."

MEETING IN INTEREST OF NATURALIZATION

A meeting to interest Polish residents of this city in naturalization was held last evening in Liberty hall, under the auspices of the Polish-American club. The meeting was very well attended and a number of interesting talks on the value of citizenship were given by prominent Polish residents, who urged all present who were not citizens to educate themselves so they might pass the government naturalization tests.

GAVE INTERESTING TALK ON MORMONISM

Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's Episcopal church, gave an informal talk on "Mormonism—Its Growth and Influence," before the members of the Educational club, at its regular weekly meeting held in Kilton hall yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Grannis spoke of the Mormon settlement in Salt Lake City, Utah. The clergyman described the city as unique and picturesque. Its location on a plateau 1000 feet high, with the water flowing from surrounding mountains, makes it one of the most picturesque cities of the western states. Among the many beautiful buildings mentioned by the speaker was the University of Utah, housing 2000 students, the Mormon temple, and the museum. In the museum are the pictures of Governor Brigham Young with photographs of ten of his wives on one side and nine on the other. The Mormon temple, built entirely of materials found in the city, is surrounded by a wall 12 feet high. The wall encloses eight acres of ground which contain a Mormon settlement. The temple took 20 years before being completed. It is the most nondescript piece of architecture, extremely rude in construction and appearance. It seats about 14,000 people, and contains an 8000 pipe organ. The acoustic properties of the temple are perfect.

The speaker described several religious ceremonies which he had attended, among which was a baptismal ceremony, when 50 youngsters were baptized in the pool beneath the temple. Among the outstanding features of the temple is a statue built in honor of the sea gulls who, tradition states, preserved the wheat crop of the early Mormon settlers. No one enters the temple unless he has passed many requirements, among these being abstinence from tea, coffee, tobacco, alcohol and other articles commonly used by the ordinary person. The paying of tithes regularly is also a requisite before one may enter the great confederacy of the temple. Within this edifice people are baptized for the dead, and even married for the dead. The Mormons believe in binding on earth and in heaven, and for this reason persons are baptized by proxy for the dead. One young lady of whom Rev. Mr. Grannis spoke had been baptized 137 times.

Mormonism is based on three books, Book of Nephi, the Bible and the book of doctrines. Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism, was described as a fraud and a fanatic by the speaker. The Mormons are strictly fundamentalists. The reason of their long existence as a religious sect is due to the fact that their founder was a shrewd Yankee who knew human nature and who had the power to lead men. Each member of the sect is given something to do for the welfare of the organization and this is one of the main reasons why the members are kept together so successfully. Rev.

Complexion better than ever before

Embarrassing eruption had resisted many treatments

Milwaukee, Wis., May 12:—"A year ago I had a very ugly and embarrassing itching rash on my chin. I tried so many different treatments on it which did little good, that finally I became discouraged. The druggist one day recommended Resinol Soap and I decided to try it and after using it less than one week, the itching and burning ceased. I thought if the soap alone could bring such relief, then the Resinol Ointment must certainly clear away the trouble entirely. After applying it for three nights, you can imagine how delighted I was to find the rash all gone, with not even a trace of redness left."

I now keep Resinol Ointment with me at all times—it would not be without it. I find it very economical to use, as a little goes a long way. I have used Resinol Soap daily and will continue to do so. My complexion today is better than ever before, has a healthful glow and, in fact, is all that it should be—thanks to your wonderful Resinol Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. J. Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS. ADA FRICK
PERRYSBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments,—"if you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYSBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous trouble and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ADA FRICK, R. "I'M HUNGRY," HE SAID TO HIS PRIME MINISTER:

The king of Yum Yum Land was hungry. He had had breakfast at eight o'clock, a large cantaloupe, a plate of ham and eggs, a dish of rolled oats and cream, five loaves of toast, and marmalade and four cups of coffee. For luncheon at one he had had a plate of soup, a fish, a whole fried chicken, two helpings of mashed potatoes, six ears of corn, tomato and cucumber and asparagus, and sweet pepper salad, and a plate of ice cream with crushed cherries all over it and sprinkled with nuts, and I don't know what all. Now it was three o'clock and he was hungry. "I'm hungry," he said to his prime minister. "I'm very hungry. In fact, I'm half starved." The prime minister said to the lord high councillor, "The king's hungry. He's very hungry. In fact he's half starved. You'd better do something." The lord high councillor said to the lord chamberlain, "The king's hungry. He's very hungry. In fact he's half starved. You'd better do something. Please see to it at once." The lord chamberlain said to the lord mayor that the king was hungry and all the rest of it. And at four o'clock it reached the ears of the cook who was just sending in a tray of crumpets and tea to his Majesty the King. "Crumpets and tea!" he said in dismay. "Will never do for a starving king. It's four hours to dinner and I haven't a thing in the house. What shall I do? I'll lose my job as cook if I don't find something wonderful at once." Just then a peddler passed the kitchen door calling out, "Fine wares to sell! Fine wares to sell! Please come and buy! Fine wares to sell!" "Be off with you!" cried the cook. "I've troubles enough as it is. His Majesty is starving to death and here I am with nothing but crumpets and tea in the house and four hours till dinner." "Oh, but look!" whined the beggar. "I have the very thing you want. An old thin fork, and a teaspoon of the same stuff." "An old thin fork?" cried the cook. "An old bent fork that looks as though it had been used for pitching hay? And an old teakettle that looks as though the highest office it had ever performed was to go to the bottom of the bathtub's pavement? Be off, I say!" "Not so fast! Not so fast!" said the beggar. "These things are not to be judged by appearances. They will save you work and I only want to do you a favor. Hide me in the palace and they are yours for nothing. Both are magic and will bring you any kind of meat or drink by merely saying a charm. To the teapot say: "Go do you, best, go do your worst. Or, teapot, dear, I'll die of thirst." "To the fork say: "Oh, magic fork, I'd like a treat. Please see what you can find to eat." "Whatever you wish for as you say these words will be yours at once." "Eureka!" cried the cook. "My fortune is made!" That was what Mother Goose heard, and that is what she told the twins as she passed them in the sky. The twins were on their way to Yum Yum Land. Amusement Notes of 1924 is made up, "The Enemy Sex" will have a prominent place at the top. The picture has all the elements of popularity and considered from every angle—plot, direction, acting, settings and photography is the embodiment of perfect screen entertainment. It was adapted by Walter Woods and Harvey Thew from "The Salamander," Owen Johnson's well-known and widely read novel and is a decidedly intimate "behind the scenes" story of society and theatre life. Briefly it concerns the love adventures of Dodo Baxter, a chorus girl, who finds herself the storm-center among five wealthy men who attempt various schemes to add her to their string of conquests. But she beats them all at their own game! It is safe to say that the average film fan will agree that the comparison in her characterization of Dodo eclipses anything she has ever done before. It is a part to which she lends beauty and dramatic skill and is the type of character that she can interpret just a bit better than anyone else we can think of. Never before has she shown more beautifully, acted more convincingly or worn such striking clothes. "Not a Drum Was Heard," the second feature, is a picture of the real west which is a tribute to friendship. Two men in love with the same girl—the one who has gone wrong in order to protect her from trouble, the other man then sacrifices himself for his "harder," although the latter has won the girl of his choice. Damon and Pythias in chaps and romances. All this does not transpire, of course, until wild riding and straight shooting, combine with fate and mix up one of the best western romances ever pictured. Frank Campeau is good in his part as the banker and the others in the cast do fine work. "Not a Drum Was Heard" can be recommended for everyone in the family. "Into the Net," the third feature, was written by Richard E. Bright, police commissioner of New York city. It tells vividly what happens to the hundreds of girls who are reported missing every year. It's the last word in thrills.

LOWELL RIALTO

A triple feature program! That's what's on the menu at the Rialto theatre the last half of the week, starting tomorrow. Harold Lloyd, king of all screen comedies, will be seen in his cyclonic, whirlwind fun-fest, "Oh! Shy," which is without any doubt the funniest of all his comedies. That's No. 1. Number 2 presents the diminutive Fox star, Shirley Mason, in a brand new production, first run in Lowell, "That French Lady," which presents this popular star in a dramatic role, the like of which she has never before attempted to portray. Number 3 on the bill offers the snappy and chic Alberta Vaughn in "The Telephone Girl," one of H. C. Witwer's humorous stories which tells about the trials and tribulations of the girl at the switchboard at the Hotel St. Moe. These stories are now running monthly in Cosmopolitan magazine. Surely here is a program that will gladden the heart of any picture fan—a veritable potpourri of 12 line, 12 comedy, romance, pathos and farce.

Very little need be said of "Oh! Shy," only that it is a scream from the very first foot of film until the last. The laughs are continuous and there isn't a let-up in the entire eight reels. You will see Lloyd as the stuttering young tailor's apprentice who is as afraid of girls as a mouse is of a cat and at the same time he is attempting to write a book on "Love." If you have already seen this picture, you'll want to see it again, if you haven't seen it, why, you just can't afford to miss it. "That French Lady" deals with a problem of society that has been bothering sociologists for years, and concerns chiefly a young French woman author and champion of the theory of free love. How she soon finds herself of these ideas after her arrival in America and what caused her to do so, makes "That French Lady" a vitally interesting drama. You will be entertained by this new photoplay which presents Miss Mason in an Elsie Ferguson role.

THE STRAND

The most thrilling piece of horse-manship filmed in a long time is credited to Mary Pickford, who in her new cinema offering, "Dorothy Vernon of Liddon Hall," will be shown for the last times today at The Strand. The ride is made along the top of a narrow stone wall 12 or 14 feet high. As if the ride along the wall is not sufficiently thrilling, a "heart-stopper" is thrown in by making it necessary for Miss Pickford to leap a wide gap where the stones have been displaced. This is but one of the many thrills argued patrons in this offering. Mary is a most charming and interesting creature as Dorothy. Don't miss her and the all-star cast assisting. The remainder of the program is quite in keeping with the high standard of the feature. For the week-end, starting with matinee on Thursday the big Metro-Goldwyn feature, "Wine of Youth," and the big comedy drama success, "Do It Now" will be shown.

The type of story is another of the "Flaming Youth" variety. It has all the kick that's required to thrill admirers of jazz picture entertainment. It contains speed to the fifth degree, it's fast and furious and there is little that Director King Vidor has overlooked in the way of pep, but at that it's all quite harmless. "Young people have too much freedom" said Mary's elders, but Mary and those of the younger set allowed they didn't have enough, and so they ran away to do as they pleased. They went out into the world where they sought youth and freedom. Then something happened. To know the result one must see "Wine of Youth." It will tell you The list of engaging stars includes Eleanor Boardman, James Morrison, Johnnie Walker, Creighton Hale, William Collier, Jr., Pauline Garon, Virginia Lee Corbin and others. "Do It Now" has an abundance of humor, as well as some thrills that will "pull you right out of your seat."

MOVIES IN BILLERICA MONDAY NIGHT

The 23d series of motion pictures to be presented this fall and winter in various Middlesex county towns brings an excellent entertainment of vivid interest as well as comedy features to the residents of Billerica next Monday night, Nov. 3, in the town hall. The admission is free to all, but silver collection is in order.

An interesting program of educational films will be an added program feature. The main film showing will reveal a story of the Canadian Royal Mounted police in thrilling action in line of duty. Many picturesque scenes of the Canadian country wilds will be shown. The feature film is entitled: "A False Trail."

AS A LAST RESORT

What shall be done to check reckless driving of motor vehicles on the highways by persons who are not licensed to drive, who are intoxicated or ignorant of the first principles of safe operation? Registrar Goodwin has tried many expedients and the police of the leading cities of the state are doing what they can to enforce the auto laws; but still the recklessness persists, still irresponsible and drunken drivers run amuck on the highways to the peril of those who use them even with the utmost care.

What is the remedy? Various expedients have been tried but without success. Other measures more effective must be adopted. One of the best proposed is to have the police seize the cars of the operators who violate the law. Let the vehicles be impounded for three months, or six, as the nature of the case may warrant. That would require an auto pound and this is something every city must have eventually. The bootleggers and drunken drivers who sport expensive cars, would be much more concerned over the application of such a law than the imposition of a stiff fine, or even a sentence to jail. If matters do not undergo a change for the better, the seizure of autos used by drivers who violate the law may become imperative.

REPUBLICAN "PROSPERITY"

One of the most inconsistent statements made during the campaign and there were many such, is, that the people should support the republican party in order to retain the "present prosperity." When the depression was at its worst, republican leaders said we were enjoying a great measure of prosperity. They seem to claim that republican control of the government is a guarantee of prosperity and this despite the fact that we have not quite passed the industrial depression nor returned to the degree of business prosperity that prevailed when the republicans took control in 1921.

The republican panacea for all the country's ills is protection, high protection. The party has overdone the idea to such an extent that our foreign market is lost and our merchant marine is rotting at the docks. Yet we are told this is prosperity! If so, then it is a new brand that in other days was known as a plain business depression.

CHILD LABOR HOAX

Thousands who at first favored the so-called child labor amendment as a humane measure that would overcome a national evil without curtailing the rights of anyone, have changed front since they realize that it transfers the federal government with one fell swoop not only the rights of parents to control the education and the labor of their children, but also the rights of the state to see that this control shall be humane, progressive and in accordance with the laws duly provided for the proper care and education of children.

The first objection to this amendment is that it would add to the bureaucracy at Washington and thereby change the whole aspect of our government by vastly curtailing the rights of states and the liberties of the people.

It would also perpetrate a very great injustice upon the people throughout the country in depriving parents of the necessary assistance that should be given them in case of necessity by their children from 14 to 18 years of age. The southern states are up in arms against this amendment, not because it would prevent the labor of children in the factories, but because of the dangerous condition that would result if any large number of the negro youth of the south were forbidden to engage in gainful occupations under the age of 18.

Hon. Charles R. Crisp of Georgia, speaking of this aspect of the case, says, "I am a southern man and I have the kindest feeling for the negro race; and if this amendment is adopted and congress should pass a law forbidding negroes under 18 years of age to work on a farm, to any God pity them, for I know not how they would live. Their labor is essential to their maintenance. An idle brain is the devil's workshop." If congress should enact a law under this proposed amendment which would give the power to do, providing that minors under 18 years of age should not work, what lawlessness and chaos would follow in many communities the Supreme Ruler of the universe alone knows. If such minors are forbidden to do wholesome work, millions of citizens will become a public charge and congress will be forced to feed and clothe them out of the public treasury. The tax-payers will be called upon to pay several hundred millions of dollars a year of taxes in addition to what they are now paying to meet the child pension list."

This child labor amendment was first proposed for the purpose of placing the mills of the south on an equal footing with those of New England in regard to child labor in textile factories. The scope of the amendment, however, has caused alarm in New England so that even many manufacturers in whose interests it was proposed, are unwilling to favor a measure that would strike a fundamental blow at the rights of the states and the liberties of the people.

It has been found that the amendment in its present form is of socialist origin and that it was expressly prepared by Mrs. Florence Kelley who had been identified with the socialist movement and as translator of Karl Marx. The discovery of this fact has also led to a change of sentiment on the part of many who at first supported the amendment. It is asserted, and with good grounds, that this amendment would result in standardizing education throughout the country, a change which was openly advocated by some of its leading proponents.

The real purpose of the socialists and bureaucrats in quietly putting this measure over on congress was to have the government usurp the authority of parents over their children, nationalize the children through a federal education department as a logical and implied deduction from the proposed amendment.

Every sensible voter in the land who cares anything for his or her own rights and for local self-government, should vote against this amendment and endeavor to secure its defeat by every legitimate means.

CHEAP ELECTIONEERING
One of the most unworthy and ridiculous arguments put forward in favor of President Coolidge has been the attempt of some papers to represent him as a sort of a bygone farmer, while at the same time casting sneers at John W. Davis for being a well-dressed gentleman. Why should not Mr. Davis be well dressed? A man who has taken his place at the head of the legal profession in the United States would be regarded as careless of his personal appearance if he attended any public function in slovenly attire. It is not implied that Mr. Davis makes a hobby of wearing fine clothes; but rather that while he dresses respectably as befits his station, the republican press is trying to make capital for their candidate by claiming that being something of a farmer, he does not dress as well as Mr. Davis. That is all humbug.

WOMEN WORKERS

About two million American women have industrial jobs. Saleswomen total around 350,000. Over 350,000 women are farm owners or tenants. Over 31,000 women are artists, including almost 15,000 sculptors. There are over 4200 women bankers, 7200 women physicians and surgeons, 2500 women lawyers and more than 12,000 actresses. All these, however, are but a fraction of the women employed in the original "infant industry"—motherhood. Home life is the lure for an overwhelming majority.

LEGAL PENALTIES IMPOSED

Five years in the penitentiary is the sentence of the General Kliegman K.K.K. in West Virginia for shooting a negro. This and the sentence of the parties that tarred and feathered Miss Dorothy Grandin in the same state, would indicate that justice is not entirely suppressed by mob rule in the south. The punishment of these offenders will probably deter mobs from perpetrating similar outrages and may also have a restraining effect upon the lynching custom so prevalent in the south on the slightest provocation.

OUR DEBT

Uncle Sam expects to pay off the entire national debt of about 21,500 million dollars, within 25 years. Right now it costs taxpayers about 1000 million dollars a year to pay the interest on Liberty and other bonds that represent this debt. Some years after the debt is retired, taxpayers' purses will be about ripe for another big war. That is how history deals with humanity.

VALUE OF A FINGER

How much are your fingers worth to you? What would you sell one for? A 15-year-old boy in New Jersey was awarded $12,000 by a jury for the loss of nine fingers caught in machinery. That's nearly $3000 a finger. He has only one finger left. If he had them back, he wouldn't sell them for a million.

How do you stand in reference to the 2 cents a gallon tax on gasoline? Most auto owners oppose it as a special tax on the owners of autos, and they think they pay enough now; but there are others who would gladly pay the tax if they thought it would give us better highways throughout the state.

Some republican supporters have it all settled that President Coolidge will get 347 votes in the electoral college; but the claim is extravagant. It includes states that are likely to be carried by La Follette and others that will go to Davis.

Ex-Vice President Marshall has come out to deliver a few addresses in the closing campaign. Mr. Marshall is a good speaker who has the faculty of putting a lot of meaning in a few words.

Every democratic vote cast in the coming election for La Follette will indirectly count as a vote for President Coolidge and against John W. Davis.

SEEN AND HEARD

Our idea of a catastrophe is a football hero with arms so sore he can't hug a woman.

In Atlanta, Ga., three men who thought they were eating mushrooms should serve as a warning to others.

Once mushrooms were the most dangerous things in cellars. That was back before prohibition.

A Thought

The soul of conversation is sympathy.—Hazlitt.

An Abandoned Wheel

Dr. Mary D. Hussey, physician residing at East Orange, N. J., finally yielded to the march of progress and retired the bicycle on which, for 25 years, she paid her professional visits.

An Old-Timer

An Iowa statute that had been on the statute books for 30 years has been repealed. The statute reads: "The traveling motorist is ordered to telephone ahead to the next town of his coming, so that owners of nervous horses may be warned in advance."

Alarming Name

An Indian chief wished to talk to his wife over long distance from a Muskogee, Okla., hotel. When the Indian shouted his name "Chief Big Fire" the operator turned in a general alarm and the fire department had reached the hotel before the chief could make the hello girl understand.

Safe Fishing

Bert E. Young of Whitman went fishing in Chandler's pond, Plymouth. Instead of fish he pulled out a big safe, for which he refused an offer of $50. When his line caught and broke, he investigated and discovered the safe in the water. The safe was comparatively new, and the only damage was to the lock, which evidently had been tampered with. The safe was empty.

Horse Treatment

A man in the midlands owns a number of horses, and has a great reputation for skill in treatment of them. One day a farmer approached the horse owner's little boy and said: "Look over here, my little man, when one of your father's horses is ill, what does he do?" "Do you mean slightly ill, or seriously ill?" asked the boy cautiously. "O, seriously ill," said the farmer. "Because," said the child, "if a horse is only slightly ill, he gives medicine; but if it is seriously ill, he sells it."

Old Boatman's Philosophy

A woebegone-looking traveler reached the riverbank and approached the old boatman who operated the ferry across the stream. "Dad," he whined, "I'm broke and I must get across the stream. Will you trust me for it?" "Fare's only two-pence, mister," said the ferryman. "I know it, but I haven't got a ha'penny," replied the traveler. The old man took a puff at his pipe. "Mister," he said, "if you ain't got a ha'penny, you won't be none the better off on the other side of the river than you are on this."

His Last Look

There was a vacancy in a certain Kirk and the congregation was "hearing" the candidates, each of whom took the services for a Sunday. One of them was a young man, obviously very full of his own importance. After he had delivered his sermon he waited until the Kirk was emptied. Then he took a long look around, while the people, anxious to get away, waited impatiently. "It's a very fine church you have here," said the preacher at last. "O, ye think it's a fine Kirk, does ye?" "I do," "Well, tak' another guik look at it," said the beadle, blithely, "for it's the last ye'll ever see o' it!" And it was.

Such Sarcasm

Mrs. Brown had suddenly become extremely friendly with all her neighbors. There were two reasons for this state of things. She found going out to men's saved washing up, and this was a consideration when she had just lost her maid. She also thought she might possibly come across another girl during her visits. "I do wish I could get a good maid," she sighed while she was having tea with an acquaintance who lived next door but one. "Why?" asked the hostess. "Perhaps Mary would do." "Mary?" asked the other in delight. "Is she going to leave you?" "Yes," said the other with a smile. "She says she wants to go somewhere where there is not so much silver to clean."

October

Soft days whose silver moments keep The constant promise of the morn. When tired equinoxials sleep, And wintry winds are yet unborn: What one of all the twelve more dear— Than truce and Sabbath of the year? More restful art thou than the May, And if less hope be in thy hand, Some cares 'twere grief to understand Thy latest, in the mother's way, With light and mirth, and glad and gay, Set on the border of the day.

And best of all, thou dost beguile With color-friendliest thought of God! Than thine bath heaven itself a smile More rich? Are feet of angels rhod With nerve more fair? O morn, say, till thy tranquil soul be mine.

— ROBERT UNDERWOOD JOHNSON.

ETCHINGS OF IRELAND ON EXHIBITION

An exhibition of etchings of Ireland by Morgan Dennis of New York has been hung at the Whistler house in Worthen street and will be on public view simultaneously with the paintings of George Fennel which were placed a week ago.

Mr. Dennis was trained as a newspaper illustrator in Boston, but now has a studio in New York. He spent the summer of 1923 in Ireland where he made innumerable sketches and from the etched plates of a number of these he has sent prints to be shown under the auspices of the Lowell Art Association. Among the landscapes shown are "Patrick Bridge, Cork," "Blarney Castle," "Golden Tipperary," and "King John's Castle, Limerick."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The community chest campaign in Lowell is due to start soon, now. The American City bureau is not prepared to indicate just when the date of the initial move toward enlisting membership in the coming campaign will be, but it will be some time next month. At the latest, and the boosters of the campaign are entirely confident. It is very evident that the community chest idea, as outlined in several successive articles in The Sun about a year ago, is considered the best way in which to raise money for the various charitable enterprises affiliated with it. There are 15 organizations in the Lowell chest group, and the idea is to start a genuine campaign for all of them, so that workers and contributors alike may have a consolidated demand made on the city only once each year. The community chest is coming to Lowell.

Women's clubs are proving real educational centers. The discussions at the regular meetings are sources of interest and afford the members an opportunity to keep on with current events. The discussions on the proposed child labor amendment, held at the Middlesex Women's club on Tuesday, were quite interesting, the entire audience taking part in the debates which were presided over by Miss Ellen Stillings, chairman of the civics committee of the club; Mr. Edward Dickinson of Billerica and Rev. Mr. McGiffert, pastor of All Souls' church.

Traffic has deserted the Pawtucket boulevard route to Tyngsboro and points north and has concentrated on the new road out Princeton boulevard and through North Chelmsford. At this late date it is improbable that traffic will congest the new highway to any great extent, but next summer may find it full to capacity, and then come the first clear traffic jam out of the city to New Hampshire. In fact, there is a demand for two, for traffic from the city to the north is altogether too heavy for one road to carry. Then, too, from the standpoint of beauty, the boulevard trip is much to be preferred and yet in its present condition, the highway is too rough and uncomfortable for travel of any sort. Hopefully, then, city, state and town authorities will get together on a reconstruction plan for the boulevard route to make it a fit running mate for the splendid new road on the other side of the Merrimack.

The new football field at the First street oval is one of the best of the city and is proving to be one of the most popular with the exponents of the gridiron art and the general public. Every Sunday when regular games are played on this field, the bank along the northerly side of the field, which forms a natural grandstand, is crowded with spectators, and along the other side of the field, where the new Lowell-Lawrence boulevard stretches, automobiles by the hundreds are parked and persons seated therein enjoy watching the game. No temporary bleachers are erected there, and it doesn't seem to the casual on-looker that any are necessary just at present owing to the natural stand formed by the bank. But if Sunday football keeps drawing larger crowds as the years go by, then it will be necessary to make some improvements there to seat the spectators.

The annual fall conference of the State Federation of Women's clubs, to be held in the Lowell Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 19, will be one of the largest ever held by the state organization. Accommodations are being made for over 1000 attendants and an elaborate and extensive program is being arranged by the State Federation. The program will include luncheon to be served at the high school annex and an organ and violin recital at the Auditorium in the afternoon by William C. Heller and Alessandro Niccoli.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH ORGAN

The new organ in the Westminster Presbyterian church was dedicated with impressive services last night. Ralph Baker played a beautiful solo for the opening, which was followed by a song service accompanied by Miss Margaret MacKeen, the church organist. Among the selections were "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Stand Up for Christ," "Brightly Beams Our Father's Mercy" and "American."

Rev. John Field Speer, pastor, officiated at the dedicatory exercises, and the formal presentation of the organ, was made by A. E. Johnston, a member of the organ committee. Acceptance was made by Elder Murdoch McVey.

The principal speaker of the evening was Rev. Thomas M. Huston of Whitinsville, who congratulated the members of the congregation for the spirit which prompted the gift of the new and beautiful organ.

After an organ recital by Wilfred Kechner, a guitar solo was given by the Sunday school room with John McPhail presiding. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Henry L. Ashley and members of the Ladies' Aid society.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

North Billerica republicans plan to hold a rally in Union hall in the North village next Friday evening. The speakers will be engaged to address the voters on campaign topics of current interest. The republican town committee is handling the rally program details.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CATHOLIC WOMEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Interest of the Catholic women of America is centered upon the convention of the National Council of Catholic Women, which will be held in St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9 to 12. Miss Mary L. Downes of Chicago, high chief ranger of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, has been selected as a delegate from that society. Many prominent women are identified with the great service school of the N.C.C.W. at Washington, D. C. Among this number are Miss Agnes Regan, executive secretary, and Mrs. Arthur S. Bird, vice president, said Miss Downes. "This service school trains workers for all forms of social service. At the recent convention of the national fraternal congress in Washington, Miss Regan addressed the president's section on the subject of social service. "Mrs. Bird was recently given the honor of being elected as a delegate to the papal decoration 'Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice' by Pope Pius XI for her charitable labors. "Fraternal societies, and especially those conducted by women, should have a definite program of service aside from its insurance and ritualistic work. Our organization is interested in the young women who make her own living. The great service school of the N.C.C.W. trains for social service in all its ramifications. Naturally our organization is particularly interested in its aims and activities. Representing more than 70,000 members, I am very glad to have a part in the formation of further plans for the benefit of our entire sisterhood."

Comparison
Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

There's never much gaining in constant complaining. We all find that out after awhile. It's only a habit for people to crab. It is better, by far, just to smile.
A fellow goes round with his head hangin' low and he thinks that the world's done him wrong. Yet, if he would cheer up, he surely would know it's more pleasant to travel along.
Just stop and consider, are you a real bidder for friends 'cause you're spreadin' good cheer? Nobody will score you and folks will be for you, if you can just smile, have no fear.
Of course you have troubles! Why, everyone does. But why tell the world about it? It's borsome when people just constantly buzz. Your worry's your own, so why shout it?
Compare little you with a bird in a cage. That ought to new reasoning bring. You're free while the bird is caged up very tight, and yet he can constantly sing.

NATIONAL BOYS' CLUB FEDERATION

Major Walter R. Joyce, superintendent of Lowell Boys' club, has received an invitation to attend the annual conference of the National Boys' Club Federation, which is to be held in New Haven, Wednesday, November 5. He has also been requested to recruit from his field of co-workers in local boys' work activities, a delegation of representative citizens, who could make the trip to New Haven in a body under the banners of Lowell Boys' club. Major Joyce is now issuing the call notices and hopes that Lowell business men always supporting the activities and welfare programs of the Boston street welfare, will make the trip to Connecticut and participate in the conference proceedings. Major Joyce is being swamped with requests that Lowell be well represented at the convening of the New England division rank and file. From The Boys' Club, Inc., of Boston, yesterday came a letter signed by Hunter Harrig George L. Roy, director-in-chief, appealing to Lowell boys' club representatives to attend the New Haven convention, promising a very entertaining and profitable meeting with many courtesies of the usual order extended to all out of town visitors and boys' club supporters. Chairman Reginald Washburn of Worcester, high in the executive leadership rolls of the New England division, also writes the major that Lowell must be represented without fail. The November gathering in New Haven will hold meetings morning and afternoon. Last year, more than 100 delegates and boys' club leaders attended the convention held in Worcester. The New England division of boys hope to increase the registration number of federation members present in New Haven next week. It is expected that National President William Edwin Hall of New York, will be present as chief guest and principal speaker.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The special senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, was divided today between Washington and Chicago to expedite its work as election day draws near.

For the convenience of witnesses, Chairman Borah and Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, went to Chicago to hear the testimony of members of the republican national committee and others while Senator Caraway, Arkansas, and Bayard, Delaware, democrats, were left in Washington to prosecute the hearing at this end.

The committee has expressed the determination to run down all of the rumors that have been brought to its attention, including evidence the republican claim to have of "enormous sums" being spent in the La Follette-Wheeler campaign.

PLAN BENEFITS FOR HOME FOR THE AGED

With the theme for the Aged of St. Joseph's parish to be opened late next month in the former Marlin estate in Pawtucket street, parishioners are busy in various ways by which money may be raised for the purpose of keeping the home in good condition after its opening. Last year when the home was purchased, Count Blanche de Castille No. 22 P. F. A. gave a whisky party for the benefit of the institution and $100 was donated to the fund. Other donations were made and now that the formal opening is so near at hand, several whisky parties, socials and cake sales are on the program. On Nov. 5, the women of St. Joseph's parish, under the direction of Mrs. Ephraim Pelletier, will hold a whisky party and social at the Franco-American Orphanage in Pawtucket street. An active committee is in charge of the affair and indications point to pronounced success both socially and financially. Later in the month, a cake sale will be held at the Gagnon company with Miss A. M. Holin in charge. As this is the season for whisky and socials as well as other activities, it is believed that a goodly sum will be realized for the home. Although no definite date has been fixed for the opening, the work on the home has been nearly completed and when final heating and water arrangements are finished, which it is expected will be done about the middle of next month, the home will be ready for occupancy. An ideal location, in a comparatively quiet section of the city, the Marlin estate is most suitable for an institution for the aged. Large, airy, well-lighted rooms, together with sun parlor and large reception room, serve to make the home an appropriate building for this purpose.

SOCCER GAME POSTPONED

The soccer game between the Abbott Worcesters of Granville and Boston next Sunday has been postponed as the Bostonians have a league game away from home on that day. The Abbotts, therefore, have transferred their Saturday game with Fore River to Sunday, and this will be played at Fore Village, Sunday, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The original name of the orange, which came by way of Persia from southeastern China, was "naranj."

THIS LATEST recruit to the list of Washington debutantes is Miss Inez B. Standfield, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Standfield of Oregon, who will have a "coming out" tea in December.

WALSH HITS G. O. P. PLEA

Junior Senator Declares "Support Coolidge" Has Little Meaning

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—Republican pleading to "support the president" by electing a republican congress was democratic candidate for re-election, ridiculed by Senator David I. Walsh, in speeches in Somerville and Malden last night. He asserted that he would support the president, no matter which party, "only when he is right."

He said in part: "The argument being made for my opponent in this campaign is that Massachusetts should elect a senator who will support President Coolidge. That argument is being made by the republican machine politicians. They are the only persons who are active in urging the election of Mr. Gillett. It is not an argument that in my opinion will appeal to the men and women of Massachusetts."

"The argument to support President Coolidge by electing Mr. Gillett is based upon the assumption that Mr. Coolidge is to be elected. My position is this, whether Mr. Coolidge is the next president or whether somebody else is the next president, as a member of the United States senate representing Massachusetts, I will support the president when in my opinion he is right and I will not support him when in my opinion he is wrong."

"That has been my course during my service in the past six years under three different presidents, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge. It is the attitude that the senior senator from Massachusetts took on the so-called soldiers' bonus. He opposed Harding on the bonus and he opposed President Coolidge on the bonus. Having taken a position under President Harding, he did not trim his sails because Mr. Coolidge was president."

"How Would Gillett Vote?" "I want to say now that in December next, when President Coolidge's veto on the bill granting increased pay to postal employees comes before the senate, I shall vote to pass the bill over the president's veto. What would Mr. Gillett do if he were senator next December? Would he support President Coolidge's veto? Would Mr. Gillett vote to support the president and vote against the increase in pay to postal employees?"

"In the house of representatives the vote in favor of the postal pay increase was 361 to 8. Did Speaker Gillett exercise his influence against the increase? If he did, it is a revealing commentary on the influence that he might be expected to exercise as an ordinary member of the United States senate."

"In the house of representatives not one vote from Massachusetts was cast against the increase for postal employees, although there are 13 republican representatives from Massachusetts. The simple question is, whether the postal workers are entitled to a decent living wage. Let Mr. Gillett state where he stands on this bill."

"Does Mr. Gillett defend the president's veto of the Bursum bill, granting increased pensions to Civil and Spanish war veterans and their dependents as to enable them to meet the enormous increased cost of living? I did not support the president, and I have no apology to make for my attitude."

"With me and voting against the president stood such republicans as Senator Moses of New Hampshire, the present chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee, Senator Willis of Ohio, who was in this state the other day asking support for President Coolidge; Senator Cummins, the present president of the senate; Senators Hale and Pernal of Maine, the late Senator Brandegee and Senator McLean of Connecticut, Senator Keyes of New Hampshire, Senator Watson of Indiana, the late Senator Colt of Rhode Island, and many other leading republican senators."

"Will Mr. Gillett inform the Civil and Spanish war veterans where he stands on this question?"

Coach Roper of Princeton Orders "Safety First" Work-Outs to Prevent Injuries

NO MORE SCRIMMAGES FOR TIGERS IN PRACTICE SESSION

Result of Experiment at Princeton Will Be Watched With Interest—Yale Prepares for Army Game—Columbia To Carry On—Dartmouth Plays Brown

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (By the Associated Press).—Unusual precautions to prevent injuries to any of his squad have been taken by Coach Bill Roper of Princeton, who has announced that his varsity will not take part in actual scrimmages during practice sessions throughout the rest of the season. This action has been taken despite the fact that all of the tigers except Jake Slagle were on the field in uniform at yesterday's drill. Slagle was resting from a battering received during the Notre Dame contest.

Dummy scrimmage, in which his men will polish up their offense by walking through plays, will be the program at Tigris town henceforth. Roper is of the opinion that his squad will get as much benefit out of the "safety first" workout, combined with the usual snappy signal drills, as they would from actual and sometimes disastrous contact.

The result of the experiment will be watched with interest in the showings of the tigers in their remaining games with Swarthmore, Yale and Harvard, and may influence other coaching systems if the squad does not lose a game in its lackluster in the actual games.

In football camps throughout the land the widely varied theories of different coaches as to the amount of work needed between contests will receive an unconscious test. Some mentors already approach the Roper idea, while others insist that plenty of hard work between games keeps their stars from going stale or getting soft and apathetic.

Princeton, preparing for the Army game, which may prove a repetition of last year's affair when Eli first showed its great strength after the Cadets had taken the first half, kept its nose to the chalk lines in a long and hard test which will be repeated today. Captain Loevel was in street clothes, and Coach, Lamm, Pond, Brigham and Cotter were on sidelines, but none is seriously injured and all will be in today's workout.

Columbia and Cornell went on with preparations for their battle at Ithaca Saturday after the authorities of the former had announced their decision not to cancel the game because of the death of Coach Percy D. Haughton. "Stunts" planned will be abandoned. Haughton's death also sobered the practice workers at Harvard.

Columbia, having taken Yale and Harvard in "strides," has begun its pushing process for Brown and Cornell, traditional opponents. Brown, in particular, with the memory of its average threat to Yale last week, will be approached with care. Cornell's possible reconstruction, after a two week absence from the field, is expected by Williams and Rutgers, is expected to be revealed when the Big Red meets Columbia.

Army held a strenuous workout yesterday in preparation for Yale and will conform to the "rest" theory during the remainder of the week. Navy will send against Penn State after the disruption of the regular team by a faculty edict banning four because of studies.

Lafayette and Pennsylvania, both undefeated, glided determinedly for their battle at Philadelphia. Rutgers and Lehigh will have minor opponents in Franklin & Marshall and Muhlen-

JAS. P. GARDNER DEAD

Organizer of Pioneer Tennis and Golf Clubs and Former U. of Chicago Pitcher

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Golfers and tennis players of the west today mourned the death of James P. Gardner of Chicago, organizer of pioneer tennis and golf clubs, here, and the first pitcher on the University of Chicago baseball team to throw a curve ball. He was an uncle of Robert A. Gardner, president of the Chicago district of the United States Golf association.

CHICAGO CUBS SEEK SLUGGING OUTFIELDER

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A trade for a slugger outfielder for the Chicago Nationals may soon be made, William Veck, president of the Chicago Cubs, indicated in commenting on the first big trade of the off-season, that which brought Maranville, Cooper and Grimm to the Cubs from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

During the past season the club lacked a fielder who could fill the cleanup position in the batting order. As present the Cubs have seven outfielders, six of them youngsters.

Veck also said the matter of a manager would be taken up shortly, but it was considered certain that Bill Killebrew would be retained.

Audio-Coscript

Bill Brown, who was assistant to Coach Linton last year, is now with the Aetna Insurance company of Detroit, Mich. Bill occasionally pays attention to the game, but here he is coaching semi-pro teams. He was much respected among high school players here last season.

Talk of a Butler-Indian clash continues to gain momentum. As both teams come from the same section of the city, there is intense rivalry among the players and their followers.

Ralph Willard is sporting several bruises as the result of last Sunday's game. He played on the Butler backfield, scoring the only touchdown of the game.

The O.M.I. Cadets are abiding with the Shawheen A. A. of Andover for a game on the North common next Sunday.

Jack Heaphy, former star roving coach of the Lowell high school and now coach at B. C. high, refereed the Cadet-University game at Peabody Sunday. They say he got away with everything.

The Lowell Cubs have reorganized and would like to hear from the Riversides, Franklins, Cumberlanders, Bowers, R. X. and the Acre Athletics. The following players are requested to report for practice tomorrow night: B. Marquis, R. Marquis, Ducharme, Chenevert, Tremblay, Watson, Conway, O. Marquis, Skarbeck, Chablain, Murphy. A game has been arranged for Sunday.

As was expected, Lowell high, Lawrence's Thanksgiving day rival, lost to Fitchburg high Saturday. But the 'S' to score was surprising. It was thought that Fitchburg would run up a larger total. On the other hand, Lowell missed a golden opportunity to score near the end of the third period, losing the ball on a fumble on Fitchburg's two-yard line.

Tickets for the Lowell high-Lawrence high game in Lawrence on Thanksgiving day are to be 75 cents, according to a decision of the Lawrence high athletic association. Lawrence fans are expected to get tickets early as a capacity throng is anticipated.

Lawrence is pointing more to the Lowell game this year than the Haverhill fracas. And rightly so. This appearance of Lowell, junior, and the boys are going after the game with a vengeance.

Haverhill will be stronger when she tackles Lowell and Lawrence than she is at present. These reports of in-fighting conditions are also the result of it coming to crucial games like Lowell and Lawrence.

Lowell will take no chances with Concord high Saturday. All the rogues who have been in there at times, but Coach Linton will use most of his substitutes unless the going gets too tough.

Managers of local teams are requested to send their scheduled games and challenges into this column for publication. Write on one side of paper only, and write legibly.

The St. Patrick's Middlets would like to play the Bowers R. X. Seconds next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. If challenge is accepted, call 5656-W and ask for Brownie.

Double-headers in football are not new. College teams played double ones or twice during the 1922 season, but the idea didn't seem to carry. At least, not in the Harvard stadium.

At Alumni field Saturday, there will be a double header, but the games will be played by four different teams. Lowell high tackles Concord in the feature attraction while the Lowell high third team does tricks against Pepperell high.

Seventy-five cents is not considered too much for the Lowell-Lawrence game, although it seems that 60 cents would about cover expenses, and then some. Down-river school authorities are counting on caring for a crowd of ten or twelve thousand spectators. Figure it out, at 75 cents a throw.

At semi-pro games in Lowell, it is a difficult task to extract a few cents from the on-lookers. If every person viewed the Butler-Cadets fight game on the Fair grounds last Sunday gave just 10 cents, they'd be counting the money up there yet.

It is really a pity that two teams in the city cannot arrange a game and have the arrangements go through without a hitch. It seems that the manager of the Wanderers received an anonymous telephone message two hours before the scheduled game with the Kenwood Rovers last Sunday saying the game was off as far as the Rovers were concerned.

Some person certainly pulled one of the meanest, most contemptible tricks in sport when he used the Rovers' name to break up a contest arranged in good faith. There was some difficulty in securing a permit for the North common game, and a team, best not mentioned, did everything in its power to prevent the Wanderers and Rovers from playing.

The manager of the Rovers takes this opportunity, through The Sun-Edgerton-Coscript, to absolve the manager of the Wanderers for the postponement Sunday. The occurrence was due to that fraudulent telephone call. The Rovers have an agreement with the Wanderers which was reached before the end of the season.

In Monday night's paper, it was erroneously stated that the Lion A.C. defeated the Rovers, 70 to 0, earlier in the season. This of course was a typographical error. The score of that game was 7 to 6, with the Lions on the winning end by a lone point. The Rovers attempt at a placement kick after touchdown failed and they lost by that margin.

Next Sunday the Rovers will play the strong Parkvales of Lawrence. The Parkvales recently tied the last St. Mary's Cadets.

There seems to be a mistaken idea current that the Rovers are an out-of-town team. This is wrong, as only one man, Hayward, comes from Kenwood. The team was originally organized in Kenwood, but during the past two years conditions have gradually changed, and the prefix Kenwood is to cause any difficulty in arranging local games, it can easily be dropped, but the Rovers know of no reason why they should do so.

Edie Rogers has secured a stellar attraction for his St. Peter's Cadets for next Sunday. He has booked the St. Augustines of South Boston and a sweet battle is expected. If arrangements for this game fall through, the St. Peters may play the Indians.

An Indian-St. Peter's Cadets encounter will attract as much as attention as a Butler-O.M.I. clash.

The Concord Braves would like to hear from any 80-95 pound team in the city. They have a game scheduled at Shedd park for next Saturday morning, and will use the following players: Conditine, Scanlon, McCarron, Platteau, Wade, Bechard, Cogan, McMahon, O'Neill and Mulligan.

The Immaculate Conception Junior Holy Name team, averaging between 110 and 115 pounds, and with only one defeat in four starts, challenge the Sacred Hearts or Wanderer Thirds to a game for next Sunday. The manager may be seen any evening at the corner of High and East Merrimack streets. The following players are asked to report for practice at the Cadet armory this evening: Donoghue, Rogers, Laferty, King, Kelleher, Choquette, McManahan, Cochran, Cassidy, Polski and Hanabury.

All Riverside A. A. players are asked to appear on the North common for the game with the Franklin A. C. Sunday. They are Edie, Cote, Brunet, McManahan, Roy, Moisan, Fadden, Tyrell, Trudel, Martel, Prescott, Allard and Walker. If any of the above will not be able to play Sunday, they are requested to notify the manager before Thursday.

THE ARTISTIC PURITAN

Business and Professional Women Hear Interesting

Talk by Art Critic

Mr. Frederick W. Coburn was the speaker before the Business and Professional Women at their regular meeting held in Middlesex hall last evening with President Mrs. Rose Jordan Hartford in the chair.

At the business session which preceded the talk the minutes of the last two meetings were read by Miss Eleanor Rivet, recording secretary as well as an invitation from the Lowell

Council Girl Scouts to be present at the fall rally to be held in Memorial Auditorium on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Mary C. Hall read a petition to be sent to the legislative body demanding a revision of the laws dealing with parental responsibility of wayward and delinquent children, asking that the club sign the measure. Mrs. Hartford was authorized as president of the club to sign the petition. Mr. Coburn was then introduced to the members. His topic was "The Artistic Puritan" and his talk was not interesting. Antiques, history, and general appreciation of art, are today subjects of much importance in fraternal and household circles and these are the reasons why the speaker chose the topic, "The Artistic Puritan" last evening. The lure of antiquities has come to appeal to the homemaker woman. Fine specimens of the furniture of yesterday are to be seen in the Metropolitan and Boston museums, the latter having rare masterpieces of 18th century furniture. Mr. Coburn spoke of the tendency of the literary historian to distort facts. He gave as an example the conception of European races as given in history, ideas which have since been proven most contrary to the real races of Europe which existed in the late 18th and early 19th century. The New England art also has been vastly misrepresented. He referred to a time not long ago when it was thought improper for a young girl to enter an art school. Now, artists are to be seen almost anywhere.

The speaker told of the 18th century at which time a revival of the arts was effected after a period when arts had sunk to the lowest ebb in history. He said that our Puritan ancestors had an admirable artistry. His personal references were most interesting. Evolving from a strictly Puritan life into an anti-Puritan environment when he entered Harvard college, Mr. Coburn stated that he found the Colonial period dull and inactive. It was not until late in the 19th century when he was working on a series of articles for the "Criterion," a New York magazine, that in his researches in the Astor library he realized the brilliancy of the paintings and other arts of the 18th century. In 1903 he became art critic for the Boston Herald and his story entitled "Pilgrims' Own Story," which may be remembered by many, having been written about ten years ago, brought out his impressions of the Puritan atmosphere in art.

Boston by the middle of the 18th century had become a centre of production for furniture, picture painting and other artistic designing. The New England cabinet makers and silversmiths were rarely surpassed in technique of beauty and originality of conception. In mentioning the pewterers Mr. Coburn read a portion of the biography of Richard Graves, one of our first and foremost pewter makers which proved most entertaining, being written in humorous strain. John Mansfield, our first silversmith, John Hull, manufacturer of sacramental silverware, and Jeremiah Dummer, a silversmith of a later day were mentioned by the speaker. He also gave short sketches of art development in Boston and other New England cities in the early 18th and 19th centuries.

DENIES POSTAL MEN
WITH LA FOLLETTE

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 29.—Rural mail carriers of the United States have delegated the right to speak for them in political matters to no one, L. C. Blackman, secretary of the National Rural Letter Carriers' association, declared here yesterday. Mr. Blackman returned today from Washington, where he said he discovered a rather widespread idea that the 300,000 postal employees of the United States were supporting the candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for president.

Statements by Mr. Thomas Flaherty, Washington representative of the Federated Postal Clerks, were credited by Mr. Blackman as being responsible for the opinion.

The rural letter carriers realized their best method of gaining recognition, financial and otherwise, in a 100 per cent performance of their duties, Mr. Blackman said.

WALKER AND MALONE
MEET TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, will meet Joe Malone, veteran middleweight of St. Paul, Newark, N. J., tonight in what is expected to be one of the most interesting bouts of the indoor boxing season. The contest will not have any little significance, because the boxers are not meeting at the welterweight class weight limit of 145 pounds.

The bout, under the auspices of the national sportsman's club, is slated for 12 rounds. It will be staged in the 113th Infantry regiment armory.

PEABODY THANKS
ALL WHO ASSISTED HIM

Fred H. Peabody, Stevens street milkman, who has recovered from the bullet wounds sustained when two men attempted to rob him, today issued a statement expressing his gratitude to all those who in any way assisted him at the time. He said he wanted to publicly thank his friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance; also the members of the police department and the operators of the New England telephone company, whose co-operation and efficiency at the time deserve commendation.

FUMBLES COSTLY

Fumbling in football usually proves as costly as the proverbial base on balls in the national pastime. A touchdown or a score is the usual result. Two fumbles by Dartmouth paved the way for two Yale touchdowns and prevented a win for the Green team.

FRATERNAL NEWS

A regular meeting of L'Union Samuel de Champlain was held last evening in C.M.A.C. hall and was well attended. Several reports were filed by officers of the association and routine business was transacted.

Bay State chapter, D.A.R., opened its fall season with a meeting Saturday evening at the home of Miss Evelyn A. Wilson, 15 South Canton street, at which Regent Mrs. Wesley M. Wilder presided. Reports of the annual fall meeting of the state organization, held in New Bedford recently, were made by the regent and Mrs. Walter K. Burt. Plans for the annual sale to be conducted at the home of Mrs. D. Carleton Macaulay, 11 Fernald street, Nov. 29, for the benefit of the chapter's quota for the International college dormitory at Springfield, were discussed. The hostesses of the evening were Miss Evelyn A. Wilson, Mrs. Karl M. Perham, Mrs. Fay Aldrich, Mrs. Clarence H. Nelson and Mrs. Lorenzo D. Butters.

AGED MAN HELD FOR SHOOTING HIS BROTHER

ESCANABA, Mich., Oct. 29.—Alfred Champ, 62, lies in a local hospital near death, with a bullet wound in his stomach, and his brother, James, aged 70, is held on a charge of having fired the shot.

The shooting occurred at the Champ home, where the family has resided 60 years. It resulted from an altercation started by Alfred when he, one of his brothers, came home intoxicated.

James surrendered to local authorities who are awaiting the result of an operation performed on Alfred before preferring charges.

The expression, "Tell it to the Marines," arose from the fact that when the marines first went aboard they were naturally rather "green," concerning nautical affairs and would believe almost anything that was told to them.

The rotary engine was invented by George Westinghouse at the age of 14.

Bring Your Battery to Us at the First Sign of Weakness

The hardest wear on a battery comes when it falls below its standard charge. The symptoms of a failing battery are quickly noted. The starter no longer turns over your motor briskly. Your lights begin to burn dim.

This is the time to bring your battery to us. To continue to use it in this condition is to court the junk heap. A simple charge may bring it up to standard. If not, we will open it in your presence and you can see for yourself just what is needed.

Fixed prices and a six months' guarantee on all repairs.

We repair all makes of batteries and are permitted to use in these repairs patented features which have made Vesta Batteries the most durable the world over.

FISH TO SUCCEED

Telephone Co. Head Develops Patience For Business Problems With Rod

BY GENE COHN
N.E.A. Service Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—"If you would develop that patience, sportsmanship and alertness so essential to the holding of important executive positions—go fishing!"

"If there were more good fishermen, there would be fewer poor fish."

"Fishing is more than a sport—it's a philosophic exercise."

Take these tips from one who has found their application valuable to daily life: James A. McCulloch, who has been an extremely important feature.

"I always wanted to build something," he explained. That takes patience, any boy will tell you. At the age of eight, he was swinging a miniature telephone across the side yard. At 16 he was working for a New Jersey railroad for $3 a week. Since 1898 he has been patiently fighting his way up.

But it was about four years ago that his greatest trial was faced. A veritable landslide of complaint came upon the company. Newspapers were campaigning and the public was shrieking against poor service. McCulloch took a careful look at the situation and came out with the amazing public admission: "You're right. Service is rotten. Something has to be done about it. You've got to be just a little patient."

Shortly afterward McCulloch added this to his original statement: "While the service is bad, we can't make it any better if every phone user is going to take off the receiver prepared to curse at the operator. Things can't get better if a man stands at the receiver with his fist doubled ready to smash something. He's got to cooperate."

And today, recalling the events of the past, McCulloch makes interesting observations on phone users: "Phone service is in a vast number of cases the fault of the individual and not the company. This isn't an alibi. It's a fact. I've said that a fisherman had to be a good sportsman; well, a phone user has to be a better one, and he rarely is. He goes to the phone and gives the girl some incoherently uttered number, and begins to curse when she asks him to repeat it. Ten cranks can absolutely ruin a fine operator for the day."

"A phone office is the greatest place in the world to study human psychology. There you'll see man in all his unreasonable phases. It is a fact that one can sit back in a phone office and, without knowing what is going on in the outside world, almost prognosticate the ups and downs of mankind by the service reports. The war and its aftermath proved that. We have never known such hysterical actions on the part of the phone-using public as marked those days."

To succeed

Advice from James A. McCulloch, a $3-a-week clerk, who climbed to the top, to the $3 boys of today:

"To be a good boss you first have to learn to be a good servant. To be a good servant, you have to think: 'People don't think enough.'"

"Think well before you take a job, and think a lot more after you get the job. If you do that you won't be changing jobs so often. This thing of job-changing is bad for you and for the job as well."

"The get-rich-quick schemes aren't as easy. Boys must work to land the so-called fat jobs. If you'll trace the careers of fat-job holders you'll find they were on the way a long time before they got there."

The rules don't change: Vision, intelligence, stick-to-it-ness and knowledge of human nature are the winning qualities."

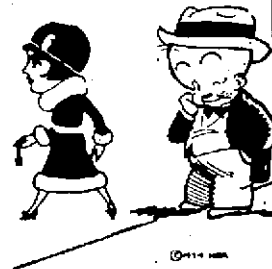

PRES. COOLIDGE TO VOTE BY MAIL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Coolidge told friends today that every indication seemed to point to the election of the republican national ticket and he is making all his plans accordingly.

While Mr. Coolidge indicated he had not decided definitely to vote by mail, he is planning to do so rather than make a trip to Northampton, Mass., to cast his ballot.

CITIZENS URGED TO VOTE

FOR LAW AND ORDER

"Don't criticize poor enforcement of the prohibition laws until a good enforcement law has been passed. Vote on Tuesday next to give the authorities power to enforce the constitution. Vote to show the authorities you want the constitution enforced. Vote against the bootleggers and rum-runners. Vote for law and order. Vote 'Yes' on referendum 1 on election day, Nov. 3."

The above appeal to the citizen voters of Lowell and vicinity was made during a half-hour address to Lowell Rotarians yesterday afternoon on present-day conditions affecting the control of alcoholic liquors and the laws pertaining thereto, together with methods of enforcement of the laws and the non-enforcement of the same. The speaker was Secretary William Forgrave of the Massachusetts Anti-Saloon league, who was engaged to fill the vacancy caused by the non-appearance of one Clifford Gordon, Ph.D. of New York, who was scheduled to speak on "Australia: the Student of America," but was forced to cancel his engagement because of sudden illness.

The anti-saloon campaign representative gave a snappy address covering some of the latest phases of the illegal liquor traffic that is besetting law-enforcement officers in many sections of New England. His speech covered the state's duty regarding the enforcement of the 18th amendment and he gave figures to show that the offices of correction and state prisons had fewer inmates today than they had four years ago, because of the prohibition laws. Notwithstanding the work of the officers of the law to uphold the statutes, the speaker said, violations continue in defiance of the law's stipulations, and it is the hope of leading citizens engaged in the activities of the Massachusetts Anti-Saloon league that the voters of the state on Tuesday next will vote "yes" on referendum 2. The referendum, in simplified form, provides that no person shall manufacture, transport, import or export intoxicating liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol without a permit from the United States authorities.

President Arthur Spalding, at the Rotarian business meeting held just before the speaking hour, read a congratulatory letter from President Everett Hill of International Rotary and also announced that Rotary club, Lions club and Advertising club members would hold a combination rally in Liberty hall, next Tuesday afternoon, starting promptly at 12.15 p.m. The union meeting is called for the special purpose of entertaining Dr. Charles B. Barker of Grand Rapids, Mich., who is to spend the day in Lowell, speaking at the high school in the morning, and also at the meeting of the three clubs in the afternoon. His subjects will include topics of current interest in modern educational methods and welfare work of many kinds.

POSTMASTERS URGED TO RUSH BALLOTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Postmasters were instructed today to exercise every care for prompt forwarding of election ballots where voting by mail is permitted.

Assistant Postmaster-General Bartlett suggested in a circular letter that some voters might assume no postage was required, or might attach insufficient postage and that in such cases postmasters should communicate with local election officials with a view to providing a means of prompt payments.

"It is needless to suggest," he added, "that all ballots by mail should be treated with the greatest care and expedition, and absolutely no discrimination attempted."

PROBATION OFFICER RAMSAY SPEAKER

Probation Officer James P. Ramsay was the speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Lions club, held in Y.M.C.A. hall at noon, and entertained a large gathering with reminiscences of the past 54 years in an address entitled, "Loose Leaves of Memory."

The meeting was called to order at 12.15 p.m. by President Dr. C. Forrest Martin, who announced that the meeting next week will be a joint affair in Liberty hall, with the Rotary, Lion and Ad clubs meeting together. He also announced that on Thursday, Nov. 13, a ladies' night will be held.

In his address, Mr. Ramsay told of his experiences at work, first at the age of eight years in Scotland in a brick yard, in the coal mines at the age of nine, on the English railways as a telegraph operator, and then, in this city, on the old Boston & Lowell railroad installing the first interlocking signal system used in this country.

In connection with the proposed child labor amendment which is to be voted upon next Tuesday, Mr. Ramsay said that the trouble today with youth is that the children are mollycoddled too much, they do not get to work early enough in life, and advocated that every youth upon completing grammar school be put to work for a year, after which it could be decided whether further education would be of benefit to each particular one.

Four Cottages and Several Other Structures Destroyed By Fire at Baboosic Lake

Town Aroused Because Fires Follow Receipt of K. K. K. Letters

AMHERST, N. H., Oct. 28.—Four cottages and several smaller structures were burned by a fire started by Chief of Police James H. Atkinson to have been of incendiary origin this morning at Baboosic lake. The town is aroused because the fires follow receipt of threatening letters signed "K.K.K." and "Klu Klux Klan" by the police chief, and by M. N. Vincent, owner of one of the properties. Both of these letters received through the mail, one ten days and the other three days ago, warned them to leave town. The letter to Vincent said: "Your boarders are not wanted at the lake." The letters were postmarked at Nashua.

Louis Clark of Amherst, Rev. Dudley Forrester of Lynn, Mass., and Stephen Walker of Medford, Mass., were owners of the cottage in addition to Mr. Vincent. Loss is set at $15,000.

FINDING ON DEATH OF NEW YORK BOXER

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 28.—An autopsy performed today indicated that acute dilation of the heart had caused the death last night of Ralph Thomas, a New York middleweight boxer, who expired in the second round of a fight with Alberto Yococha, middleweight champion of South America. Yococha, arrested on a technical charge of homicide, was released from jail to await the inquest, for which no date has been set.

DAVIS WOULD PUT AGRICULTURE ON EQUALITY WITH INDUSTRY

Says Unrest on Part of Farmers Will Continue Until Their Voice is Listened to at Washington With Same Attention Given to Banker and Industrialist

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—In his second statement outlining campaign issues, John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president, declared today that unrest on the part of the farmer is a continuing factor in the nation's problems. He said the farmer's voice is listened to at the White House and in congress, with the same attention given in those places to the voice of the banker and industrialist. The policy of the democratic party, Mr. Davis said, is to readjust the balance and to put agriculture where it belongs—on an equality with industry. The nominee asserted in that connection that such a program would be put into effect if he was chosen president on Nov. 4 and given the support at the same time of a democratic house and senate.

Collage For Economy
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Coolidge assured a group of advertisers who called at the White House today to pledge their support, that he proposed to maintain an administration devoted to economy, peace and prosperity. "The government is a great business institution," the president said, "but it is more than that—it is a great humanitarian institution with an interest in the welfare of all the people." The advertisers, members of the Coolidge-Davis national advertisers' league, called at the White House for breakfast with the president and Mrs. Coolidge. After breakfast the party went to the south portico of the White House where pictures were taken and where spokesmen of the group assured the president in a brief talk of their support.

12 ORPHANED CHILDREN SEEK $100,000 FOR DEATH OF FATHER

Trial of Suit Against Flushing, L. I., Contractors, Owners of Auto Which Ran Down and Killed John Dugan, Opened in Queens Supreme Court Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Twelve orphaned children sat in the Queens supreme court today as mute testimony at the trial of their $100,000 damage suit for the death of their father, John Dugan, a grocery clerk, in an automobile accident. With the unfolding of the case there has been revealed an unusual story of the struggle to support a family of 14 in New York city on the moderate income of wage-earners. Mary Dugan, 20, is the oldest of the children, the youngest being one year old. Mary earns $21 a week as a telephone operator. The next oldest sister, Elizabeth, gave up a similar job to run the house and take care of the children after the death of their mother.

TEST CASE ON INCOME TAXES

Court to Determine Right of Newspapers to Publish Returns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Judicial determination of the right of newspapers to publish income tax returns opened to public inspection under the new revenue law will be sought by the government through presentation of an "appropriate case" in the courts. Details of the procedure to be followed, and the name of the newspaper, editor or publisher selected as defendant, have been withheld by Attorney-General Stone, but he announced late yesterday without expressing an opinion as to the legality of publication of income tax payments, that the case would be filed at an early convenient date.

In a long statement, Mr. Stone cited the sections of the revenue act of 1924 which declared income tax returns "public records" and made provision for their inspection, but requested a section of the revised statutes as amended which prohibited a "malicious" publication "in any manner whatever not provided by law any income return, or any part thereof." The purpose of congress in enacting the latter provision "after it had made it the duty of the commissioner of internal revenue to make available for public inspection the amount of income tax paid by each taxpayer," he said, "can only be surmised."

French Authorities Interested
PARIS, Oct. 28.—Publication of the American income tax figures has given the French revenue authorities a new idea as to how they will be able to determine the income of American residents of France for taxation purposes. Heretofore foreigners have enjoyed the privilege of paying a French income tax based upon an amount seven times the annual rent they paid in France.

McDermott Not Guilty
through State Officer Arthur E. Keating, that McDermott treated an injury on the finger of John B. Savard of Nichols street, which later required the performance of an operation by Dr. Francis R. Mahony. Savard stated this morning that he cut his finger while working on a grinding machine in the Saco-Lowell last March. He went to the first aid room where McDermott sewed up the wound. Some time later, he said, the finger began to bend unnaturally and on the advice of an accident insurance company, he went to Dr. Mahony. Judge Enright felt that defendant acted in an emergency and for the apparent benefit of the injured man. He ordered him discharged.

GREAT BRITAIN'S VOTERS TO CHOOSE NEW PARLIAMENT TODAY

Labor Government's Defeat Predicted—Russian "Red"
Note Severe Blow to Laborites—576 Vacant Seats in Parliament To Be Filled

LONDON, Oct. 29. (By the Associated Press).—Great Britain's voters went to the polls today to elect a new parliament to replace that dissolved at the instance of the laborite prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, on Oct. 5, following an unfavorable vote in the commons. While some of the laborites still expressed confidence that the result would show the people favorable to their remaining in power, the general opinion was that the government would be repudiated. The respective strength of the parties in the new house, however, was a subject on which no impartial observer would venture to give a public prediction. Only the returns will tell whether the conservatives have been able to regain the majority over all other parties necessary to put them back into office and to end the chaotic arrangement whereby they and the laborites until recently allowed the laborites to run the government. Up to a few days ago public interest in the outcome seemed apathetic, but the sensational election of four members of the alleged "Zinoviev" letter, urging the British communists to intensive propaganda and organization at units within the British army and navy, served to fan the sentiment against the laborites because of their reputed lenient attitude toward the communists.

The true effect of this development cannot be gauged accurately in advance. If straw votes can be taken as indicating which way the wind blows the strength of the laborites, headed by former Premier Asquith and Lloyd George, is on the wane, and that of the conservatives and laborites both is increasing. There has been no expression of lack of confidence, however, on the part of Mr. Asquith or Mr. Lloyd George. All activities in the election campaign ceased at midnight today. Votes will fill 576 vacant seats in parliament, thirty-two others being already decided by unopposed returns, while seven university members are to be elected by postal ballot. The earliest results are expected about 10 p. m. (5 p. m. eastern standard time) with a rapid succession of declarations thereafter continuing until about 3.30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Even then less than half the results will probably be known, the expectations varying between 225 and 250 seats, and the remainder will come in during the day tomorrow.

DEMOCRATS PLAN
BIG OUTDOOR RALLY

Plans for a big democratic rally at city hall steps on Saturday evening have been completed by the democratic city committee, and among the speakers who have promised to be present are: Senator David I. Walsh; Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, candidate for governor; Col. William M. Gaston; Humphrey O'Sullivan, candidate for representative, and Miss Mae Mathews of Boston.

Saturday's rally will be the final one before the election next Tuesday at which out-of-town speakers will be present, and it is expected that it will be a record-breaker. Senator Walsh and Mayor Curley were scheduled to speak in other cities Saturday evening, but both expressed a desire to make a final plea in this city before election and promised positively they would be here to speak on this occasion.

Col. Gaston is well known in this city, having spoken here on many occasions, especially during his campaign for senator two years ago. Miss Mathews, who is connected with labor interest in Boston, spoke here recently and her return is at the request of hundreds who heard her and desire to hear her again.

CORBETT AND SCOTT
FILE PAPERS TODAY

With the final day for filing nomination papers for the various municipal offices to be held on Tuesday, the primary election, three days away, two candidates for the mayoralty and four for councilor-at-large filed at the election commission office yesterday afternoon and this morning: Thomas J. Corbett and Samuel Scott were the mayoralty candidates and Joseph H. Jodoin and Joseph A. Gagnon were the aspirants for councilor to file. Only two candidates for mayor who took out papers, have failed to file—Stephen C. Garrity and James C. Keefe—but quite a few prospective candidates have yet to file and members of the election commission expect a run on the last day.

Daniel Conroy, present councilor-at-large, and Hugh P. Leonard of 40 Whitney avenue took out nomination papers yesterday for councilor.
